

Butser Farm Day

As part of their Romans project, year 3 had a fantastic outing to Butser Ancient Farm. They got to explore a Celtic roundhouse filled with smoke from an open fire and found out the walls were made from branches and animal poo. This was mainly to their disgust, but some found this delightful! They then explored a Roman villa which had a reconstructed mosaic floor and strange yellow paint which turned some children's clean white polo shirts yellow. The children experienced creating pottery from natural clay, making Roman style jewellery to take home, built a flint wall that supported their weight and became archaeologists digging for Roman treasure! A wonderful day was had by all!
