

Year 3 Reading

Year 3 have been reading books by the famous author Julia Donaldson. We really enjoyed reading The Gruffalo, and the children have written their own character descriptions. Below are some of their descriptions.

Have you ever met a beast that has spikes all over his coconut brown back? So sharp that they can break through metal, eyes like lava dripping with hatred, claws as sharp as daggers? He is as tall as a skyscraper, he is as fast as light. But that is not all! Oh no no no!! He looks like that, but he is really very lonely and wants to have a friend. If you ever meet him, say you want to be his friend.

By Johnny Kracmar 3B

Have you ever met a creature with horns as sharp as thistles and lives in a lava spitting cave? His name is the Griffalo he has turned out toes and a poisonous wart at the end of his nose. His skin is as thick as two bears. He searches for creatures all shapes and sizes, his eyes are as orange as a carrot. Inside he feels lonely he doesn't want to be a bone cracking creature, he doesn't have any friends. So every midnight he goes to an enchanted river and sings his magic song. All creatures above and below the trees are petrified of him. He has knobbly knees all wrinkled and old. His belly is as wobbly as jelly. He has purple spines shooting down its back.

By Harvey Glendenning 3B

His fur is as brown as chocolate. His spiky skin as spiky as a hedgehog. This big stumpy feet as stumpy as a giant. His tongue as black as the night sky. He goes into the woods and whatever the Gruffalo sees he eats it. On the outside he is as big as a house and on the inside he is as small as a baby mouse. The Gruffalo strolls through the woods in pride and he stumps every step of the way. The Gruffalo's eyes explode with anger. He can't control his terrifying body. His terrible tusks as hard and as ginormous as a rock tumbling down a big hill.

By Sophia Xenitides 3B